EU STUDIES FAIR 2004 " BEYOND ACCESSION "

EU STUDIES FAIR 2004 BEYOND ACCESSION

The fair will be held at The Hilton Hotel Brussels, Boulevard de Waterloo, 1000 Brussels (nearest Metro: Louise).

Discover more about the Master, its courses, 29 participating universities, by visiting the EIUC/E.MA exhibition stand between 10 a.m. and 5.30 p.m.

The E.MA Information and Publication Officer will provide you with all practical information for applying for the academic year 2004/2005.

Some current Masterini and former graduates of the E.MA Programme will also attend the fair. Their presence will be a sound and visible contribution for answering to the visitors' questions.

EU STUDIES FAIR 2004 BEYOND ACCESSION

is a one-day fair and workshop bringing together prospective students, universities and academic institutions offering postgraduate programmes in EU and International Relations.

This is European Voice's 5th Annual Education Fair in Brussels - the heart of the EU institutions and home to the largest lobbying community in the world. Brussels offers an ideal location for universities and businesses to promote their courses and career opportunities to a young, multilingual and highly motivated international audience. If you are looking to take up further study in EU Studies in the form of a Masters degree this is the event for you.

Overview of the Fair

With the arrival of 10 new accession countries to the EU and a population in excess of 450 million, the opportunities and the geographic availability to study EU integration programmes has never been greater. For universities, this studies fair is an unrivalled opportunity to promote their programmes both for medium and long-term prospects.

Last year over 300 visitors joined Europe's leading academic institutions for a full day event that included excellent networking opportunities alongside practical sessions for visitors on further studies and post study opportunities of employment within EU institutions.

EU Studies Fair 2004 includes informative (and free) seminars on how to succeed in an EU affairs career. Accompanying the Fair is a glossy A5 magazine featuring editorial content on European Studies as well as adverts from exhibitors and advertisers. The guide is distributed to all the visitors at the fair as well as inserted into 15,000 copies of the newspaper the week before the event.

Leading course providers from across Europe see the fair as an event not to be missed. Exhibitors and advertisers promote courses such as:

- MA European Studies
- MA in European Business
- MA International Relations / International Politics / Diplomacy
- MA Public Policy
- MA Human Rights
- MSc European Integration / Politics / Governance
- MEconSc Public Affairs / Lobbying
- LLM European Law / Policy
- LLM Competition Law / International Commercial Law
- MBA programmes, executive education & distance learning
- Summer Schools
