Global Campus invites you to the presentation of Prisma human rights photo contest

Illustration by Nina Fuga

The Global Campus of Master's Programmes and Diplomas in Human Rights and Democratisation is pleased to announce the first edition of PRISMA Human Rights Photo Contest.

The Photo Contest has just opened and will accept submissions through June 30 2015.

We invite photographers, professional and amateur, from any part of the world to submit their work.

The selected images will be displayed, along with photographs by a special guest photographer, in an exhibition in Venice, at the Monastery of San Nicolò, the premises of EIUC the European Inter-University Centre for Human Rights and Democratisation in September 2015, during the 72nd Venice International Film Festival.

The goal of PRISMA is to complement academic research with other media of knowledge, such as photography, to reach a wider international public and foster a better understanding of human rights issues and their protection. PRISMA aims at being not only a photographic contest but also to become an annual event for photography on human rights worldwide. Furthermore, PRISMA's purpose is to create a network of artists, intellectuals and professionals interested in strengthening the protection of human rights and the promotion of democracy and peace.

The theme for the 2015 edition is "Freedom". The value of Freedom is at the very core of the concept of human rights: freedom from oppression, freedom of speech and belief, freedom from fear, freedom of thought and freedom of opinion. The images submitted for the photo competition should illustrate the relevance of "Freedom" as a fundamental human right and the importance of defending it.
