On the 7th and 8th of December 2013, the Building Bridges Human Rights Film Festival will take place in the historical city of Venice. The event is organised by the current students of the European Master's Programme in Human Rights and Democratisation (E.M.A) -EIUC's main teaching programme- in order to celebrate the Human Rights Day.

The support and collaboration of EIUC, the Municipality of Venice through its Centro Pace, and the E.MA Alumni Association, were crucial to set up a film festival dedicated to the cause of Human Rights.

This year's festival is based around the theme of "Identities", chosen to reflect the challenges and obstacles faced by millions of people around the world for whom recognition and dignity remain far-off ideals, and will feature a range of both long and short films from across the globe.

Included also will be round-table discussions, debates, as well as snacks and aperitivo.
