

Posted on

12.04.2016

Share on

- —
- —
- —
- —

In Focus Seminar on Public Health and Human Rights: how to participate

The Seminar on “Public Health and Human Rights - Current Challenges and Possible Solutions” will take place on 19 May 2016 at EIUC premise in Venice Lido.

The seminar on public health and human rights will host some of the world’s most renowned experts on health related human rights. Their presentations will be organized in three panels. Presentations in each panel will be followed by an interactive discussion with other participants. The seminar will address three major conceptual areas: the first panel will focus on the interaction between public health and human rights from national, regional and international perspectives; the second panel will address the topic of global health security and the protection of human rights; and the third panel will discuss the theme of public health systems and prevention of human rights abuses. Read More about the programme...

Target: the seminar is open to all the people with a strong interest in the study of the link between Human Rights and Public Health. It is especially conceived for professionals who work in fields where this link is particularly strong: employees of national Health Ministries in the European Union and beyond, representatives of Pharmaceutical Companies, functionaries and officials of International Organizations and members of NGOs working in the public health sector. Read More about the admission requirements...

We strongly recommend early registration as the number of places is limited. Registration deadline: 5 May 2016.

The registration includes:

- Tuition
- Lunch on seminar day
- Certification at the end of the course

And (optional)

- Accommodation for 1 night (18 May 2016) in a 3-star Hotel selected by the organisers should you have selected the “WITH accommodation” option. Read more about the registration and discover how to apply...

www.eiuc.org/publichealth