

Posted on

30.04.2015

Share on

- Facebook
- Twitter
- LinkedIn
- Google+

The Association of the Italian Criminal Chambers and the Criminal Law Association of Venice confirmed granting of patronage to EIUC training seminar on “Dublin III, two years on. Asylum seekers and beyond”

The training seminar will take place from 19 to 21 June 2015 and analyse the EU asylum policies, including questions raised by the Dublin III regulation and the need to examine human rights concerns in debates on migration.

The two lawyers' association have already sponsored previous training initiatives of EIUC targeting legal professionals and dedicated to human rights issues, and have confirmed their support for this training targeting asylum and refugee issues, having regard to the highly relevant topic addressed and the increasing need for criminal lawyers to acquire specialised knowledge on the issue.

Deadline for enrolment: 21 May 2015

Further details about the course and application procedure can be found here