

Posted on

30.10.2014

Share on

- Facebook
- Twitter
- LinkedIn
- Email

When the student becomes the teacher

The last cluster class on “Human Rights Defenders” on 30 and 31 October will be taught by former E.MA students, Francesco Bruscoli and Ane Krestine Larsen, respectively.

Francesco Bruscoli, graduated in 2000 with the European Master's Degree in Human Rights and Democratisation from EIUC, has been working for about a decade in the development and humanitarian world, collaborating with the International Committee of the Red Cross, the United Nations and other international organisations.

On the other hand, Ane Krestine Larsen, graduated in 2012, has been involved with the implementation and evaluation of Danish prostitution policy at the Danish National Center for Social Research.

For some years ago there is a collaboration agreement between the E.MA Alumni Association and EIUC to bring back former students to share their knowledge and expertise from working in the field of Human Rights Defenders.

We hope to see you in class next year!

