The university and the city

Helsinki is the largest city in Finland, with over 500.000 inhabitants. The Helsinki region has a population of 1.2 million. Helsinki is the centre of government, business, culture and science in Finland.

The University of Helsinki is the nation's oldest, largest and most versatile university. It is also one of the top research universities in Europe.

Second semester courses

Courses available for E.MA students:

Master level courses on:

- International Law
- Humanitarian Law
- Use of Force
- Legal Philosophy
- Human Rights
- International Public Law

There is always a wide variety of courses in English available, ranging from specific human rights related courses to courses and seminars in international legal theory, the history of international law, or the ethics of global governance. All courses are available on WebOodi <https://weboodi.helsinki.fi/>. Most of the courses are taught by the research staff of the Erik Castrén Institute, but the teaching sections on constitutional law and jurisprudence also offer a number of interesting courses.

Deadline for enrolment in the courses: After their arrival, 8 days before the course starts.

NB: course registration requires a valid University of Helsinki user account, which will be given to students upon arrival.
